

The future
of human health
is you.

Do you want to be one of those people who makes a difference? Quintiles is recognised as a specialist in promotional “outsourcing” services for companies in the pharmaceutical, biotechnological and medical equipment segments. To date, Quintiles Commercial has worked with more than 300 biopharmaceutical companies in more than 50 countries, covering 550 products in 150 therapeutic areas.

Quintiles Belgium began trading more than 15 years ago and has grown to become the leader in the area of outsourced management of medical, pharmaceutical and hospital representatives as well as educational nurses.

Quintiles Belgium is regularly looking for experienced (m/f) sales & marketing talent in all regions of Belgium.

We offer you not only a permanent contract, but also an attractive salary, a company car, and fringe and extralegal benefits. Furthermore, you can count on an exciting role with ongoing training and support, within a demanding but stable working environment where the emphasis lies on team work and personal development.
